Severe storm causes damage in Pontoon area

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
A severe storm Sunday night caused extensive damage in Pontoon Beach.
One witness said a funnel cloud struck the mobile home on Lake Drive which formerly was used by the Pontoon Beach Police Department, destroying the unit.
The tornado sighting has not been officially confirmed. Also damaged were four stores in the Gaslight Plaza Shopping Center and several awnings and sheds at the Lake Drive Mobile Home Park, 4754 Lake Drive.
Mrs. Pauline Briggs, wife of the owner of the Pizza Pit Restaurant in Gaslight Plaza, said she noticed a light in the roof of the restaurant before the storm arrived which she now believes was the fire.
Donald Patrick, Pontoon Beach juvenile officer who was in the Pizza Pit when the storm began, said the storm "bounced like a train passing close by."

"I was sitting there and all of a sudden it began raining on me inside the restaurant," he said.
Whether lightning struck the shopping center or whether high winds or a tornado were responsible is not known. A long section of the center's roof was bulged upward.
The fire, which spread within the roof, damaged the Pizza Pit,
Key Rexall Pharmacy, Babbies
Beauty Shop and Reliable Loan Co. The P. N. Hirsch & Co. and Viviano's Tom Boy Market
were not damaged.
No estimate of damage was available today.
The Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department was at the shopping center until 3 a.m.
Firemen also answered several calls of power lines downed by tree limbs.

The tornado or high winds apparently skipped directly over the Gaslight Walk Apartments and touched down at the police department's former mobile home. The mobile home was moved to the edge of the lake and appeared to have exploded with all walls falling outward. The wooden steps to the trailer were untouched and remained upright in their original position.
The police department vacated the unit in February.
The wind or twister apparently turned north from there and downed a large tree in the 4100 block of Pontoon Road.
At the mobile home park near the bend in Lake Drive, awnings were damaged and sheds were moved by the wind.
The shed of Bonnie Barton, 4048 Bruce Ave., also was picked up by the wind and was thrown against a mobile home.

Power lines were reported down across the road at 12 Park Lane and in the 4100 block of Lake Drive.

RAISE $500
Granite City firemen raised about $500 for the Crippled Children's Association of Granite City during a benefit car wash at the main fire

Man killed, another hurt in fire

By VALERIE EYENDEEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
An elderly man died of smoke inhalation and a second man was seriously injured after escaping from a second-story window during a fire which gutted the National School of Music building at 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard at 5:13 a.m. Sunday.
State investigators report arson is suspected in the blaze that claimed the life of Marshall A. Puckett, 79, who occupied an apartment on the second floor where he was found in bed.

Three other occupants of second floor apartments were absent from the premises at the time of the fire, it was learned.
Mr. Puckett, who lived alone, was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Death was caused by smoke inhalation and breathing superheated air, according to Assistant Fire Chief Charles Hileman. Heat in the apartment melted plastic dishes and blistered wooden cabinets.

Charles Keel, 79, was found on the sidewalk beneath his second floor bedroom window.
Initially, he was treated at the hospital here for fractures to his left hip, left leg and right wrist, and dislocated right shoulder and other injuries. He later was transferred to John Cochran Veteran's Hospital, St. Louis.
Hileman said the fire apparently originated on the ground floor, eight or ten feet inside the front doorway near a middle stairway and the entrance to the National School of Music.

Escape from the top floor via a second exit at the rear of the building apparently was cut off as the flames shot upward through the center of the structure, Hileman reported.
Damage to the building was estimated at $15,000 and loss of contents was set at $10,000. The corner location formerly housed the Auderheide Grocery store.

John Rauker, a resident, was in a rear garden watering tomato plants when the fire occurred, the assistant fire chief reported.
George Corzine, another occupant of the premises, was in a nearby bakery shop having coffee and an unidentified fifth resident, was not at home, it was learned.
Blodgett, Mr. M.
Puckett had resided in Sweet Home, Ore., prior to moving to this area about five years ago.

He is survived by two sons,
Lowell Puckett of Minooka, Ill., and Leonard Puckett of Juliet, Ill.; one daughter, Mrs. Richard (Pamela) Dillon of Pekin,
Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Armita McGregor of Hawthorne, Ill., and Mrs. Earline Brown of Granite City; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.
Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.
State arson investigators were at the scene today.

GUTTED INTERIOR of a two-story brick building at 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard in which Marshall A. Puckett, 79, died in a fire about 6 a.m. Sunday, is inspected by Assistant Fire Chief Charles Hileman. Charles Keel, 79, was injured seriously after leaping from a second floor window. State investigators report arson is suspected.

Big marijuana seizure here

Jackie Jackson, 24, of 4140
Division St., Lot 32, and Ralph D. Ham, 28, of the 2700 block of Madison Ave., were arrested Thursday after a 60-pound shipment of marijuana was delivered to a mobile home on Division Street just west of Pontoon Beach.
Sale value of the marijuana was estimated at $15,000 to $16,000.
Area law enforcement agencies were notified by Tucson, Ariz., detectives that a footlocker of marijuana had been intercepted there and was to be delivered by Air Freight to the Division Street mobile home.

Madison County Sheriff John Maeras, Chief Deputy Robert Rizzi, Lt. John Cooper of Granite City, sheriff's deputies and troopers from District 25, Illinois State Police, set up a stake-out at the mobile home and waited for delivery of the locker.
The delivery was made at 11:45 a.m. Thursday and when the resident of the mobile home opened the package, he found a note saying, "Greetings and salutations, compliments of the Tucson Police Department." Officers outside then closed in and arrested the owner.

At noon, another man appeared at the house and also was arrested.
Both Jackson and Ham were charged with illegal possession of cannabis, a felony. Ham later was charged with illegal possession of a small amount of cannabis, a misdemeanor.

Jackson was released upon posting $500 bond and Ham posted $750 for his release.
Preliminary hearings on the charges are scheduled for Friday morning in Edwardsville.

High School.

Betancourt's photography has appeared in several national magazines as well as in local papers. He is one of the staff photographers for Granite City schools. However, this is the first time his pictures have been on exhibition as a group in St. Louis.

The display is made up of forty mounted prints and encompasses a wide range of images and impressions.

Name Pontoon health inspector

Glen Wilson, 39, of 15 Victoria Drive, Pontoon Beach was appointed the new health inspector of Pontoon Beach during the village board's meeting Thursday night. Wilson, who has been a fireman with the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department more than a year, replaces the former health inspector, Charles Sturdivant, who resigned about two months ago. Sturdivant's resignation came after his wife, Mrs. Mary Sturdivant, failed in her April bid for re-election as village clerk.

The board received copies of the annual audit report from C. J. Schloesser Co., certified public accountant firm of Alton. The audit disclosed no errors in bookkeeping but recommended administrative changes to expedite future audits.

Dr. Dean Rochester, a trustee, said the village street department should clean the catch basins in the Lakeview Estates subdivision.

The board ordered the work be done. Also being considered is installation of an additional catch basin between Victoria and Pontoonbeach drive to relieve standing water there.

Trustee John Cole reported he will contact a local plant to determine if a used pump is available for use in the Quiet Valley Lagoon.

A new pump was previously ordered which is to be delivered early in August, but it has been indicated two pumps, will be necessary.

At present the village is using an old village pump and a pump owned by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District. The levee board has asked for the return of its pump as soon as it is available.

Cole suggested the entire lagoon pumping system should be examined to determine if it is adequate.

Draft office will move to Belleville

Paul C. Johnson, chairman of Local Board No. 185, now located in the Post Office, Federal Building, Edwardsville, has announced that on Aug. 1, the board office will move to a South Church, Schaeffer Bldg., Room 318, Belleville, Ill.

The new telephone number will be area code (618) 233-7440. Young men must register with Selective Service during the period from 30 days prior to and 30 days after their eighteenth birthday.

Their registration may be accomplished by going to the new location of the board office or by contacting one of the registrars in Madison County.

Supplemental registrars are located at most of the high schools in Madison County.

Johnson further said that registrants of Local Board No. 185 may receive advice and assistance from Advisor to Registrars Irvin C. Slate Jr. or Robert D. Eversold, both of Granite City.

Any correspondence or documents which are to be mailed to the board must be mailed to the new address shown above.

The new office will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

New apportionment move a gamble

BY RAY SERATI
 Copley News Service
 Springfield—Several governmental scholars have been researching a point that could be of interest to many Illinois state senators.

The research centers around an Illinois Supreme Court ruling dealing with the reapportionment commission which drew the new legislative district lines.

Thence district lines were to be used for the next 10 years. When a new population census would be taken. However, the Supreme Court in a suit was asked about the constitutionality of the commission since the legislative leaders had appointed some of their administrative aides to the commission rather than the public members.

In its ruling the court said it would approve the new lines which had been drawn by the commission as "provisional." So, in the hectic dying days of the spring session of the General Assembly, a measure was adopted which sought to ratify the earlier action of the commission. Now will this action by the General Assembly hold?

Some of the aides to Gov. Daniel Walker have been researching the fact, that if the measure is signed into law will this mean that in effect the General Assembly actually ratified a "new" reapportionment.

If this is the case then all of the 59 Illinois senators will have to face re-election next year, and not just the usual one-third. House members are required to face the electorate every two years—all 177 members.

With all of the senators running next year, it could be a chance for some Democrats where Republicans now hold sway in the downstate districts. But would the current administration place itself so deeply into the legislative process? If there were heavy losses this could bring some bad feelings. However, if the winners were big, the person who devised the scheme could call his own shots.

But in this area, the whole question must be sought out. For instance, even though only one so-called public member was chosen to sit on the commission—former Gov. William G. Stratton—the lines were drawn very close to population guidelines set by the U. S. Supreme Court in its new famous "one-man-one-vote" ruling.

If the legislative lines were redrawn in the 10 per cent deviation, it could help build up the Republicans in the northeastern Illinois suburban areas.

Trying to change the reapportionment of the General Assembly would at best be a long-shot gamble. Undoubtedly the constitutional scholars will let sleeping dogs lie.

Increase in career-occupational enrollment

SPRINGFIELD — Is enrollment in junior colleges declining?

“Yes and no,” says Fred Wellman, executive secretary of the Illinois Junior College Board.

Yes, the enrollment in baccalaureate-oriented programs is declining — as it is in other educational institutions — but now, the over-all enrollment is not on the downswing.

Enrollment in baccalaureate programs declined by nearly 10,000 from fall, 1971 to fall, 1972, according to information distributed by the IJC.

On the other hand, the career-occupational programs experienced an increase of approximately 5,000 during the same period. Enrollment in public service and general studies programs increased about 12,000 each from the 1971-72 and 1972-73 periods.

And the total enrollment picture is looking up. According to figures included in the IJC's Biennial Report, an increase of over 18,500 students enrolled in junior college classes is predicted this fall.

This represents a jump from 211,553 in 1972 to a predicted 225,000 this fall and includes students in both credit and noncredit courses.

There are 38 public junior college districts encompassing 47 campuses throughout Illinois. Three of the colleges, Black Hawk, Chicago City and Illinois Eastern, are multi-campus institutions.

SPRINGFIELD — Fifty-six school districts have indicated a preference for annexation to a junior college district since Jan. 1, 1973, according to information from the Illinois Junior College Board. These preferences have been indicated to the IJC by resolutions from the boards of education and petitions to hold referendums by residents of the school districts.

State law requires all portions of Illinois to come under a junior college district by July 1, 1974. There are 38 public junior college districts encompassing 47 campuses across Illinois.

A June 30, 1973, deadline was set for residents desiring to file petitions for annexation referendums. If no petition was filed, the board of education may send a resolution to the IJC identifying the area they wish to be annexed to, according to Fred L. Wellman, IJC executive secretary. Deadline for submitting resolutions is 1974.

By Jan. 1, 1974, the IJC, taking into account the resolutions by the school boards, must draw up a map assigning every unattached area in the state to a junior college district. If the residents of an area are unhappy with these results, a hearing may be held to change their status.

The benefits of a resident belonging to a junior college district include a high priority to attend any given class, a preference in scheduling classes and an opportunity to vote in elections of representatives for the junior college board and bond issues.

Of the 19 petitions for annexation filed this year, three have indicated a preference for Lake Land and Kankakee; two for Belleville, Danville and Lewis & Clark; and one each for Spoon River, Illinois (Central, Lincoln Land, Elgin, Joliet, Parkland and Illinois Valley).

The preferences assigned by the school boards are broken down as follows: eight for Carl Sandburg and Decatur; three for Lake Land and Ill-

Granite City Press-Record Mon., July 30, 1973, Page 3

nois (Central; two for Black Hawk, Joliet, Lincoln Land, Belleville and Spoon River; one each for Danville, Parkland, Rock Valley and Sauk Valley); and one giving “no preference.”

State aiding nursing homes

SPRINGFIELD — How are nursing facilities funded?

That question may not bother too many of us, but for those who are in nursing facilities or have friends and relatives in such facilities, it can become a very important question.

The answer is found in the Illinois Department of Public Aid. Hugh Canada, supervisor of Medical and Institutional Services, explained that the Department of Public Aid pays for the level of care an eligible patient needs, and the level of the facility licensed by the Department of Public Health.

The amount of payment is determined by the county department staff, and evaluations are based on the orders of doctors and the charting records of each facility.

Payments are made according to the level of care needed, the level of the facility, and the base rate. Additional payments are made for special services and program add-ons.

Canada used eating as an example of special services. “Some people in nursing facilities require no assistance to eat their meals. On the other hand, some need to be fed, and some must be tube fed.”

“We divide eating into four levels and we make four levels of payments for the individual patient.”

Program add-ons consist of such things as shelter factor payments which concern building construction only, activity programs, rehabilitation nursing, and social rehabilitation.

Program add-on payments range from $40 to $50 a month per patient. A facility may qualify for one or all add-ons pending approval of the Department of Public Health.

Payments are made by the state to facilities licensed for the level of care needed by the patient. The federal government matches this by refunding the state 50 per cent of the money paid to each facility.

Patients having Social Security and other pensions have them deducted from the rate of payment. They are not allowed to supplement the state's payment.

Currently in Illinois, nursing facilities are licensed for three levels of group care. These consist of skilled nursing, which treats those needing care during acute illness or during recurrences of a long-term illness, intermediate I which serves those suffering long-term illnesses or disabilities, and intermediate II which serves those not needing nursing care, but who need personal care.

These three levels agree with the federal programs and simplify payments. The Department of Public Health is the licensing and surveying agency, and tells when a facility is in compliance with federal standards or not.

Surveying was begun July 1, 1972, and was due in part to more safety standards being passed.

If a patient is on Medicare, charges must be billed to Medicare and the Department of Public Aid becomes responsible for any insurance Medicare does not pay. Car-a-day added that Medicare has strict requirements and that it does not pay for a service, Public Aid takes over.

The elderly receive more benefits from Public Aid than any other group. The Department of Public Aid serves 35,000 people a year which is about one-third of the total found in nursing facilities. Of these, only 8,000 are disabled.

In February, 1973, the Department of Public Aid paid out $12,069,754 to nursing facilities in the state of Illinois. On the average, $10 to $11 million is paid out monthly.

Individually on an average, the department pays $502 monthly per person in a skilled facility, $115 for a person in intermediate I, and $242 a month per person for those in intermediate II.

The Chicago area has higher rates due to higher operational costs, Canada explained.

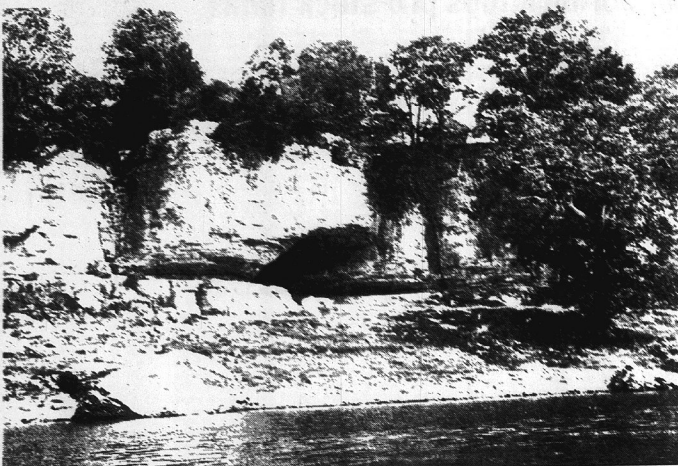

If a facility has its license revoked, payments to that facility cease, and patients under Public Aid are transferred. If a facility operates under a provisional license, payments are still made.

Barbara Wright, chief of public information for the Department of Public Aid, explained that room, board, all programs involved, the base rate, expenses for the level of the facility, and special expenses of the patient are put together in one bill which is then sent to the Department of Public Aid.

“The base rate differs according to the level of the facility. Points are determined by the county staff according to the level of care a patient requires. For this reason, the average number of points is different for different levels, and causes different rates to be charged.”

Mrs. Wright pointed out that private homes serving one or two people are not paid by the Department of Public Aid. She added that any facility that is licensed may participate in the Public Aid program if it desires.

Those eligible for Public Aid include: those 65 and over, those who are blind, those who are disabled and have reached the age of 18, and those who are otherwise self-supporting but need help in meeting the cost of medical care.

PIRATES SLEPT HERE --- Cave-In-Rock, now a state park, once housed a gang of river pirates who would lure travelers to the cave, then rob them of their possessions and sometimes their lives, as well.

Cave-in-Rock state park has tradition of treachery

SHAWNEETOWN — Doves and children laugh there now, but Cave-In-Rock was more used to treachery and terror than families and fun.

The cave has been known for centuries and much of its history has been associated with the worst of human nature. It was first mentioned in the early 1700s by a Frenchman who visited the crypt-like cavern and, perpetuating the legends, called it Caverndans Le Roc cave in the rock. By 1744 the cave was already on an early map of the region.

A natural curiosity, it was visited only rarely by white men for a while. After the Revolutionary War, however, one Samuel Mason who had been an officer in George Washington's army, turned the cavern into a tavern which he coyly called “Cave-In-Rock.”

By any name, it was a dry and a death trap. In one operation which has gone unrecorded, some of Mason's men would join a group of unsuspecting travelers some miles upstream, explain they knew the river, then ambush and offer to help them in their trip. As they neared the cave area, the river pirates would lure the travelers in the cave, or even wreck their boats and force them ashore there, where they would be robbed of their possessions and usually of their lives as well. “Cave-In-Rock” was surely a front for treachery, robbery and murder.

In the early 1800s, the cave was still headquarters for robbers — chief among them two brothers known as Big Harpe and Little Harpe, who had been forced to flee Kentucky across the river for crimes, running the gamut from robbery to a series of perversely murders. They continued their nefarious activities from the cave until both were eventually slain. A gang of counterfeiters followed them into the cave, and still other outlaws came after them, but by 1834 the area had become more settled, more law-abiding, the river pirates were dead or discouraged, and the cave became a peaceful haven to numerous pioneers trekking west into the Illinois country and beyond. A famed landmark, it was shown on most early maps.

Today the cave, at the edge of the Ohio River, is the highlight of 64-acre Cave-In-Rock State Park, about a half-mile northeast of the village of the same name off Ill. Rt. 1, in Hardin County.

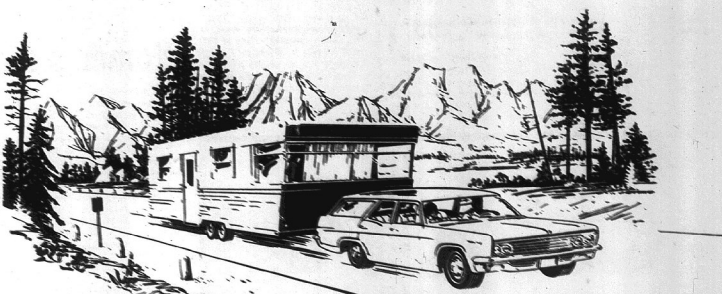

Some 55 feet wide at its mouth, the cave is a nearly uniform 40 feet wide inside for most of its 100-foot depth. Toward the rear the floor gradually slopes up to within a few feet of low ceiling.

Scenic beauty is the park's chief claim, beyond the cave itself. Picnicking is possible at scattered areas, with three playgrounds, there is a large stone shelter house with fireplace which houses a concession stand, and there are two other shelter houses in the park. Gravel pads for camping are available, river fishing is popular, and one hiking trail is marked but many other unmarked trails also run through the area, located on a river bluff.

When the river is at normal pool stage, the cave mouth is some 20 feet from the river's edge, but in spring when waters are high, the cave may be entered by boat.

As in all Conservation Department properties, groups of more than 25 must make advance reservations, and groups with minors must have one responsible adult, at least, for each 15 youngsters in the party.

Deborah Byers becomes Mrs. Jeffrey Gittinger

Miss Deborah Jo Byers, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James C. Byers, 2317 Cleveland Blvd., became the bride of Jeffrey Carl Gittinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gittinger, Cincinnati, Ohio. The wedding was solemnized at 7 o'clock Friday evening at First Presbyterian Church.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony, performed in a candlelight setting, was the Rev. David Maxton.

The altar was adorned with bouquets of white flowers and candelabra holding tall white tapers.

Kenneth McClasky presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. June Branning as she sang the Lord's Prayer, "We've Only Just Begun" and "Sunrise-Sunset."

The bride was escorted down a white-carpeted, candlelight aisle and given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding a gown of ivory silk organza and alencon lace re-embroidered with pearls and iridescents.

Designed with a wedding ring neckline of lace and jewels the sheer bodice was enhanced with lace and rows of tiny pearls. The high rise waistline accented the A-line skirt of silk organza adorned with motifs of alencon lace, re-embroidered with pearls. Sleeves of the gown were short and fashioned of scalloped lace embroidered with jewels.

An attached train of silk organza was softly shirred falling from beneath the waistline to form a chapel train. Her memento was a long contoured veil of ivory imported silk illusion and enhanced at the sides and across the top and the bottom with alencon lace attached to a coronet headpiece of lace. She held a bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Jamie Leah Byers was her sister's maid of honor, with Mrs. James Snelson, Mrs. Roy Logan and Miss Lizette Mills, of Forrester Hills, New York, as bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of apricot chiffon trimmed with deeper satin ribbon drawn thru ivory lace, featuring a Duchess neckline of lace and ribbon, long bishop sleeves and an empire waistline defined by ribbon inserted through ivory lace.

The bodices were trimmed with a soft ruffle forming a square yoke outlined by lace and ribbon and the skirts were long and slender. They carried bouquets of deep apricot daisies and greenery, festooned with matching narrow ribbon falling to the hemline.

Attending the groom was his twin brother, Terry Gittinger, best man, Richard Byers, the bride's brother, James Stuart and Hugh Groff were groomsmen. Ushers were James Snelson and David Sison.

Candlelighters were Miss Maria Hall of Collinsville, and Miss Marsha Fischer of Belleville.

Mrs. Byers chose for her daughter's wedding an ice-blue, floor-length gown fashioned with long sleeves and high neck and were baby breath in her hair.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Sunset Hills Country Club with Miss Judy Kuergels of Waterloo, Ill.

Finding information about products is a real problem for consumers. Every company thinks its product is best. If they didn't feel this way, we wouldn't have faith in their products. But how do you sort out the facts and avoid the biased comments? It's difficult but experience is the best teacher.

There are a number of sources for consumer information. Companies are usually very helpful in answering questions and supplying information about their products. Magazines are very helpful; however, you have to be careful about the reliability of the information. Take a close look at the tests and the results. Of course, the reputation of the magazine is important too.

The Consumer Product Information Center publishes an index of selected federal publications on how to buy, use, and take care of consumer products. Many of the publications are free but there is a small charge for most of them.

A few of the topics for which information is available are: toasters, dishwashers, microwave oven radiation, room air conditioners, vacuum cleaners, washers and dryers, X-rays from home TV sets, anti-freeze-coolant, automobile batteries, hazards of "mixing" tire types, minibikes, toy safety, clothing and fabric care, labeling, removing stains from fabrics, sanitation in home laundering, soaps and detergents for home laundering, Fair Credit Reporting Act, FDA consumer, mail fraud laws, mail order insurance, truth in lending, caffeine, federal food standards, how to buy beef roasts, how to buy beef steaks, how to buy meat for your freezer, keeping food safe to eat, dietary supplements, nutritive value of foods, eye cosmetics, hexachlorophene, sickle cell anemia, hearing aids, amphetamines, aspirin, medicines without prescriptions, prescription drugs, fireplaces and chimneys, making basements dry, selecting and financing a home, wise home buying, carpets and rugs, floor polish and floor care, simple plumbing repairs, fire extinguishers, safety of cooking utensils, lawn, weed control, controlling household pests, controlling mosquitoes, how to control the house fly, air travelers fly rights, facts about feeding your dog, and how to prevent and remove mildew. There are many more publications available, even some in Spanish.

The index is available by writing to Consumer Product Information, Public Documents Distribution Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81001.

The American Institute of Laundering and the National Institute of Drycleaning have merged into the International Fabricare Institute. The National Fair Claims Guide for Consumer Textile Products published by the National Institute of Drycleaning is no longer available. However, the International Fabricare Institute will release it in a revised form, but no date for publication has been set. They are not taking requests for it before it's available. I'll let you know when the Institute starts taking requests.

There are numerous other institutes and organizations that have consumer product information available. Your local library may be able to help you obtain the address of an establishment that can supply you with the information you desire.

A tentative financial statement for the Granite City School District's July 1972-June 1973 fiscal year shows a year-end deficit in the district of $366,385. The report was completed Friday.

The cash imbalance in the education fund was $165,310, a figure which the school board, administration and teachers had been seeking before resuming negotiations on a proposed new working agreement.

A meeting between the school district's negotiating team and representatives of American Federation of Teachers Local 743 has been set for 3 p.m. today to review copies of the report.

The financial statement does not attempt to project future income and spending levels. Because of this, the net reserve or deficit at the start of a school year is only one of a number of factors considered in deciding future pay levels and benefits.

The tentative financial report was to be discussed by the school system's administrative staff at a meeting this morning.

Following today's 3 p.m. meeting between the school district and faculty negotiating teams, the teachers have indicated they would like a week to ten days to study the financial data before resuming full-fledged talks.

A final audit report of the district's accounts will be available after a full audit is completed.

The tentative statement was prepared by J. J. Schlessor & Co., certified public accountants, Alton. The Schlessor firm also is completing the annual audit.

A total of $14,134,758 was spent from the education fund during the 1972-73 year. $1,497,967 was spent from the building fund, according to the report.

On an accrual basis, the report lists a $165,310 deficit in the educational fund and a $132,112 deficit in the building fund. The construction fund showed an $81,739 deficit and the working cash fund was overpaid $118,899.

Accounts ending the year "in the black," with balances at the end of the fiscal year, included the retirement fund at $37,054, the transportation fund at $53,366 and the bond and interest fund at $21,163.

These amounts to a net deficit in the seven funds of $366,385. Questions concerning the education fund deficit at the end of the year and the district's tentative state aid formula caused negotiations between teachers and the school district to be recessed June 1.

The teachers' representatives said they would meet again when the district was better able to answer some of the questions concerning its financial situation.

The tentative financial statement, like most school records, is on an accrual accounting basis.

On a cash basis, there was a year-end deficit of about $264,606, including a $162,763 imbalance in the education fund, a school official estimated.

He said that at the end of the fiscal year June 30, the district had $1,438,895 in assets and investments in the education fund.

Money owed to instructional employees and vendors, plus other liabilities, totaled $1,603,698, leaving the $162,763 deficit.

in blue chiffon designed with an oval neckline edged in white lace that was repeated on the cuffs of the long full sleeves. Each wore a picture hat and carried colonial bouquets of blue and white daisies.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

All the news is not bad in the food business. Some prices have gone up and Beef may be very scarce this week; but some produce items have come down, and pork seems to be easing off a little. Our "stuck" canned goods section has been a shambles all week. As fast as we put it up, it was taken down. Our inventory is still in fair shape, but some items are temporarily out.

Livestock markets are wild. We feel sure that with packing houses closing down all over the country, the government will have no recourse other than to lift the ceiling on beef as they did on pork. Prices may go up, but sooner or later they will break and in the long run, we'll be better off. We think so. Pork prices are high right now, but we predict that one year from now, they will be substantially lower.

In the meantime we will continue to feature items in meat that you can afford to buy. It is becoming harder and harder, but we try longer and longer every week to locate the "buy of the week."

So far we haven't had any "harders" in our store so we haven't had to put up any signs, like one steak per customer, etc. It seems as though when you have good, steady, loyal customers, you don't have any problems. So far, no problems.

Fuel shortage alarms schools

The current energy crisis may soon move from the gas station pump to the schoolhouse door, Illinois School Superintendent Michael J. Bakalis warned Friday.

Bakalis, in Hyannis, Mass., at the meeting of the Council of Chief State School Officers, told his counterparts from across the country that a preliminary survey in Illinois revealed many schools are becoming alarmed over likely fuel shortages this winter.

He urged other school chiefs to survey fuel needs in their states so that a national plan for energy allocation for schools can be developed and presented to the federal government. Florida school chief Floyd T. Christian has made a similar recommendation.

GARAGE SALE U.S.A.

The neighborhood garage sale is sort of an American institution. Like baseball, apple pie, and Chevrolets. So it seems only natural that Chevrolet should have a Garage Sale. Ah, but unlike some garage sales you've been to, Chevrolet is not selling antiques. Just shiny new cars, and some tough new trucks.

We can't tell you, in this ad, exactly which models and styles and colors. After all, there are over 6000 Chevrolet dealers across the country. We're simply here to suggest that if you're even remotely in the market for a new Chevrolet, you ought to go down to your dealer's and browse. With a little luck you'll come up with a big bargain.

Chevrolet Malibu Coupe. For people who love driving as much as we do. A traditional favorite.

Caprice Sport Sedan. For people who want the finer things while they're still young enough to enjoy them.

Impala Custom Coupe. The Great American Value year after year. Traditionally high in resale value, too.

Rodgers heads biomedical group

Frank Rodgers III of Denver, Colo., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rodgers Jr., 2115 Lincoln Ave., has been nominated as chairman of a committee to form an association of biomedical equipment technicians for the state of Colorado.

Rodgers was responsible for organizing the committee which first met July 9 at Porter Memorial Hospital, Denver. The first state-wide association meeting is set Sept. 9 at Porter.

The purpose of the association is to provide medical institutions with safer, more reliable service in the use of medical instrumentation, with better patient care and to receive professional recognition for biomedical equipment technicians by health and medical organizations in Colorado.

Rodgers, who is supervisor of biomedical engineering at the St. Anthony Hospital system in Denver, has been in the medical field 10 years. A 1963 graduate of Granite City High School, he started his career in August of that year when he enlisted in the Army and received training as a medical specialist.

FRANK RODGERS III

In 1964, while still in the Army, he attended biomedical equipment maintenance school at Fitzsimons General Hospital at Denver.

After working as a biomedical equipment technician in Korea, Germany, Vietnam, where he was decorated for meritorious service, and Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco, he returned to Fitzsimons for advanced training.

He underwent open heart surgery before graduating from the advanced school. He was medically retired from active duty in August 1972.

He is attending Community College in Denver and expects to receive his degree in biomedical engineering within the next year.

Scott Air Base open house set for Aug. 11

Scott Air Force Base will open its gates on Saturday, Aug. 11, as it hosts Scott Community Appreciation Day with activities ranging from static displays of aircraft to aerobics demonstrations.

The main attraction for this year's show is the C-5 Galaxy, the world's largest aircraft. Numerous aerial demonstrations are scheduled, including a glider show, a parachute jump and helicopter pickup, a flyby by F-4 Phantom jets, and aerobics demonstrations by Mark Wells in his Pitts Special and Chuck Andrews in his Formula 1 racer.

Wells, of Salem, Ill., was the 1972 Canadian advanced aerobics champion and was second in the 1973 Canadian unlimited aerobics contest. Currently, he is attempting to qualify for the five-man U. S. Aerobics team which will compete in world competition.

Andrews, president of the Formula 1 Professional Race Pilots Association and a major in the West Virginia Air National Guard, will perform low-level high speed aerobics in his racing plane.

Other activities include a static display of such aircraft as the C-5, F-4, C-9 Nightingale, C-141 Starlift, C-30 Sabreliner, HC-130 Hercules, C-131 Samaritan and the HH-53 Super Jolly will be set up in the main hangar depicting the responsibilities of different organizations as the Medical Center, Air Weather Service, Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service, and the 161st Communications Squadron.

Visitors will be permitted to listen to performances by the 58th Air Force Band, view free film in the base theater and watch fast-pitch and slow-pitch softball games involving teams from Scott and the local community.

Visitors will be permitted to swim in the new base pool, bowl in the modern bowling center, obtain snacks and drinks at the Recreation Center and watch Little League baseball. A shuttle bus will operate between the many points of interest on the base throughout the day.

The public will be admitted to the base for the open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to Col. Frank W. Constantine, commander of the 375th Aeromedical Airlift Wing. Maps and programs will be given to drivers entering the main gate and proper parking areas will be pointed out.

Walt Disney concert MRF feature

The weekend Mississippi River Festival concerts by the St. Louis Symphony will vary from a serious classical program featuring renowned American pianist Gary Graffman on Saturday to a family night of light entertainment on Sunday.

Joining the Orchestra on stage for a Walt Disney Family Concert on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. will be over 20 beloved Walt Disney characters.

The costumed characters, which include Snow White, Goofy and Mickey Mouse, will sing well-known songs from celebrated Disney films. Noted Hollywood conductor Carmen Dragon will be on the podium for the Disney concert.

Musical Director Walter Susskind has chosen three favorites from the orchestral repertoire for his Saturday concert at 8:30 p.m. The program will open with Dvorak's Carnival Overture and close with Berlioz's masterpiece Symphonie fantastique. Graffman will be soloist in Beethoven's Third Piano Concerto.

Goffman, who has appeared with the Orchestra at subscription concerts, will be making his Mississippi River Festival debut.

Considered the top American pianist in his age group, he is the only pianist to have recorded with six American leading orchestras (New York, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and San Francisco). He annually tours Europe and appears with this country's most renowned ensembles.

Sunday night's Walt Disney Family Concert promises to be the best evening of family entertainment in the Mississippi River Festival's five year history. Over 20 characters, ranging from famous Mickey Mouse to a Walzing Ostrich and Hippo (from "Fantasia" and "My People") will be featured. The accompaniment of the full St. Louis Symphony.

Among the cherished Disney classics featured on the program will be "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "The Happiest Millionaire," "Fantasia" and "My People." The more than two dozen selections will include such favorites as "Someday My Prince Will Come," "Zip-A-Dee-Do-Dee" and "A Spoonful of Sugar." Tickets for the Mississippi River Festival concerts range from $2.50 to $5.50 for reserved seating under the tent and lawn seating is $2.00.

For ticket information patrons may phone Powell Symphony Hall at 514-53-2500 or the STU ticket office at 515-69-2520.

New move to merge Scout councils opposed here

By WALTER FRANGE
Special Staff Writer

The Cahokia Mount Boy Scout Council is showing a 63 per cent increase in youth members over last year, Robert Simon of Edwardsville, organization and extension chairman for the Council, reported at the group's executive board meeting at Tempel's Smorgasbord Thursday evening.

Current youth membership is 3,323 compared to last year's 2,041. In units, Cub Scouts, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts the local Council has 142 currently active, a gain of ten units over the previous year.

Simon pointed out that this is particularly significant when only 17 of the 35 Boy Scout Councils in the North Central region are showing gains over last year.

Malvin L. Gillie, president of the Council, reported that E. Ray Grisham, vice-president, and Jack Vance, council commissioner, attended a meeting in Indianapolis called by the regional office to discuss merging the four southern Illinois councils with the Greater St. Louis Council, and forming a new and much larger Scout Council.

The four Boy Scout Councils in Illinois currently have offices in Wood River, Granite City, Belleville, and Herrin.

A discussion then followed and, according to Gillie, no member of the board at Thursday's meeting was in favor of any merger of councils.

Loss of local financial support and taking over a portion of the debts running into thousands of dollars of the other three Illinois councils, were a few of the disadvantages pointed out.

The Cahokia Mount Council and the Greater St. Louis Council are both operating in the black.

In addition, it was noted that there seemed to be no advantage for the local units, their leaders or the boy membership in the forming of one "super-council" to be headquartered in St. Louis.

President Gillie further reported that it was his understanding that the executive board of the Plaza Bird Council, with offices in Wood River, was also not in favor of forming the new larger Council.

Board member Mrs. Mary Tarpoil reported the Cub Scout "Day Camp" was a great success. According to Mrs. Tarpoil, the camp averaged 149 Cub Scouts and 41 volunteer leaders each of the four days.

Dr. Thomas Layloff, co-chairman of the Camping and Activities committee reported that Camp Sumner received a perfect score of 117 items checked by regional inspectors this summer and that camp attendance was up over last year.

He also reported the committee was working on a council camp-site, pop corn sale, a Webelos day activity, and that Lester Bickel assistant superintendent of schools in Collinsville, would be chairman of a national Eagle Scout speech contest.

The next meeting of the board will be Sept. 17.

FLATTENED MOBILE HOME, the former office of the Pontoon Beach Police Department on Lake Drive in the village, was demolished about 11:05 p.m. Sunday by what one witness described as a funnel cloud. John Cole, a village trustee, here sorts through the debris of the unit which had been vacant since the police moved to the new village hall in February.

Slough funding near

The proposed Dobrey Slough interim drainage project may be funded within the next few weeks. John Guillot, chief state waterways engineer, told the Press-Record Friday.

Guillot said his department sent a request Thursday to the state Bureau of the Budget, asking for the release of the $150,000 appropriation for the project. Once the funds have been released, his department can advertise for bids for construction, Guillot said.

The department called for bids in June under the old appropriation but no proposals were received at that time. When the state fiscal year ended July 1, the unused appropriation reverted to the state's general fund. The General Assembly renewed the appropriation and the Governor signed the bill July 18.

academic year. In addition to directing the play, Davis is makeup artist for the summer theater.

Members of the cast of the Albee play are Mary Ellen Fawcett, Dixon, portraying Martha; Bryan Erdman, Edwardsville, as George; Bruce Firestone, Edwardsville, Nick; and Peg Williamson, Highway, playing Hopper.

Tickets for the play are $2 each for adults and $1 each for SIUE students.

Third SIUE theatre offering

The third offering on the summer theater program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is "Edward Albee's 'Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?'" It can be seen at 8:15 p.m. Aug. 3, 4, 9, 10 and 11 in the Communications Building theater.

James Davis, a graduate student from Elmhurst, is directing the play in partial fulfillment of requirements for his master's degree, which he expects to complete during the upcoming

Tenant pays 'repairmen' $20

Two men who claimed they were authorized by a landlord to repair a leaky roof sprayed a black substance on it and left with $20 received from Herman Butts, 1400 State St., the tenant, he reported last week.

The men told him he was to pay the bill and the amount would be deducted from his rent, but all he had was $20. A call to the landlord showed no repairmen had been sent, however.

The men left in a pickup truck containing a tank, ladder and number of buckets. One was 30 to 35 with black curly hair and the other 18 to 22 with blond hair.
